This new program expands the income eligibility for reduced-fee legal services to 325% of the federal poverty level.

For example, individuals making $39,195 or a family of 4 making $79,950 a year are eligible for assistance on a sliding scale (currently $80-$125 per hour). The program deducts child support and alimony payments from income when determining eligibility.

Find out if you qualify: contact the Modest Means Legal Program for a free, no-obligation assessment. Once qualified, the Modest Means Legal Program staff will work to match you with an attorney who handles your type of legal matter.

The Modest Means Legal Program is a service of the NH Bar Association – dedicated to the principle of equal justice for all.
